There is no great mystery to the achievement of leadership. It is comprised of a series of critical insights and innovation, ultimately resulting in a higher standard of performance. For Océ this has meant years of technological advancement in print and document processes, earning 5,873 international patents and several prestigious awards. We rigorously apply this higher standard to document process management across the entire lifecycle. Whether engaged in business process imaging, records management, print or eDiscovery, our sights are on innovation. OcéMAX™ is one example. Only Océ Business Services clients enjoy a Six Sigma® based quality management system especially designed for outsourced document processes.
